Historicity of Being (Heidegger)

"...as the historical process of production..."*

"...as the will to power positing values..."*

"...as the will to will in the eternal recurrence of the same."†

"...as the transcendental mediation of the movement of the absolute Spirit..."*

"...as the ontic causation of the real..."*

"...as energeia."†

"...as idea and as the koinonia [communion] of the Ideas..."†

The History of Metaphysics (which is equal to Philosophy)

Socrates & Plato, c. 400 BC
Aristotle, c. 350 BC
Kant, 1781
Hegel, 1806
Marx, 1867
Nietzsche, 1880s

Presocratics (Parmenides, Heracleitus, etc.)
c. 500 BC

The end of philosophy

Present day: thinking

† Heidegger, “Time and Being” (1962).